Voters Turn Down Apartment Proposal

A proposal by C. Lincoln Giles to construct 100 apartment units on the former Curran estate on North Main street was rejected by voters at the special town meeting Monday night.

It was the second time within a year that an apartment proposal has been rejected, a proposal for the High-Haverhill street area having been turned down at the regular town meeting in March. Giles had proposed colonial style units making use of existing buildings, including a barn on the property which would become a two story recreation building.

Giles said he felt that this would be the highest and best use of this property.

Illumination would be gas lighted lanes leading to the property.

Giles said he would give the town a covenant, insuring that he would more than exceed setback requirements, such as 50 feet from Castle Heights road, where only 20 feet are needed.

He presented a letter from Atty. Edward Bodenrader of Castle Heights Road, who expressed a favorable opinion on the proposal.

The planning board disapproved the plan, stating it would create school and traffic problems.

The two main objections the planning board put forth were that a study was now underway by consultants on apartment problems and there is also a housing study being made of the town.

Giles said that he would lay his reputation on the line for this project, noting that he had been doing work in Andover for 17 years and has always retained the colonial atmosphere.

Morton Levinger, 5 Castle Heights Road and David Goldman, 9 Castle Heights Road, abutters to the property, expressed their opposition, as did Dr. Daniel Frishman, 14 Castle Heights Road.

Frishman said he was speaking as an abutter and not as a school committee member.

He said that when he moved in 13 years ago the area along North Main street was barren. Then the Shawsheen Plaza came in and the plan presented to town meeting for architecture was not followed.

Then came the apartments (Washington Park) with substantial changes. He also mentioned the Lanam Club as having come into the area during this period.

He said he felt that this attrition indicated that commercialism

Raytheon Utilities Approved

Water for the new Raytheon plant was provided by the special town meeting Monday night, but anti-fluoridationists failed to win their battle for the town to provide well or spring water.

The Raytheon proposal was actually a straightening out of the bonded accounts for the construction of the water and sewer lines to the new plant on Lowell street. The town needs $170,000 for water lines and $150,000 for sewer lines. The special town meeting of August, 1968, appropriated just the opposite.

The Anti-Fluoride group had inserted an article asking that $3,000 be appropriated to provide water free of artificial fluoride. This was not allowed to reach the floor, since the finance committee had rejected it.

Miss Catherine A. Stewart, asked the moderator if she could present a resolution. Moderator Arthur Williams said she would have to wait until the completion of the warrant before action of that nature could be taken.

Miss Stewart waited and then presented a resolution which would provide fluoride-free water, and asking the selectmen to make provisions to supply it. The resolution

Education Town Meetings Set

Andover's new school superintendent announced plans Tuesday for monthly "education town meetings" beginning in November.

The purpose of these community meetings on educational goals will be to give citizens a chance to voice their desires and expectations regarding their school system.

Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert and his associates will be on hand to present information about school programs, field questions and listen to citizens comments and suggestions.

"Superintendent's Office Hours", starting also in November, will reserve every Thursday from 3 to 5 p.m. for any citizen to visit Seifert at his Bartlett St. office to register suggestions and comments about the school system.

With the plea, "Let's be outspoken about what education is to achieve in our community," Seifert told the TOWNSMAN he was actively seeking a community consensus on educational objectives, to assure that the community's desires and his staff's efforts, will be directed toward the same ends.

Toward this consensus the superintendent, who took office less than a dozen weeks ago, is also breaking ground for other new communications channels outside the regular structure; he plans a student advisory council, including elementary as well as junior and senior high students, a PTA Council, including representatives of junior and senior high parents as well, and a teacher advisory council; each council is to advise him on the thinking of its segment of the community on the status of education in Andover and where we would like it to go.

Seifert emphasizes that the community meetings on educational goals should be forums not for criticism alone; he has previously stated that he is very receptive to criticism, but only when accompanied by suggestions and alternatives. He hopes townspeople will come to help formulate Andover's aims for public education, and also some of the strategies for reaching them.

This is in line with Seifert's position that the schools have the responsibility to present themselves to their community in a variety of ways, and that the community, in turn, has a responsibility to respond to the schools. Together, Seifert claims, the community and its school system will be strong and flexible enough to meet, understand and withstand and/or absorb the forces, the waves of change and reaction which

An Extra Hour On Sunday

Sunday morning you can roll over and gain that extra hour lost last spring. Daylight saving time comes to an end and with it comes early darkness.

As the new hours set in caution should be exercised by motorists in the late afternoon and evening hours, since youngsters will be roaming about, particularly during Halloween festivities next week.

Political Spawning Ground

The Hurley property at 56 Bartlett St., which is to be acquired for expansion of the Central school, was once, apparently, a spawning ground for political leaders.

The house has stood at the location for over a century and has been occupied by several owners, two of whom became governors and one a mayor.

One of the first to live there was the Spaulding family. There were two sons, both of whom later moved to Rochester, N.H. and at various times served as governor of that state.

Rolland H. Spaulding served as the leader of the Granite state from 1915-1917.

His brother, Huntley N. Spaulding, served as governor from 1927 to 1929.

Around 1912 Bernard Allen and his family lived at the address. Mr. Allen was a professor at Phillips Academy and had a son, Daniel who was a student there graduating in 1922.

Now retired, Daniel Allen served as mayor of Larkspur, Calif. in 1959.

After leaving Phillips, Allen received his degree from Yale and served in the U.S. Government engineering office in World War II.

The house at one time was a part of a complex which housed faculty members from both Phillips and Abbot academies throughout the particular section of Bartlett street.

Plans now are to acquire the property, demolish the building and use the property for the addition to the Central elementary school.

Gillette Award From AIM

Andover's newest industry, the Gillette Co., was honored Wednesday by the Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

The new plant was the recipient of a plaque as a winner in the association's annual plant beautification competition.

The multi-million dollar plant covers over 50 acres in a single-level complex.

Also among the 12 firms to receive awards was the Western Electric Co., Merrimack Valley Works in North Andover.

It is the second year in a row that a Greater Lawrence firm has been so honored. Last year the Eagle-Tribune Publishing Co. received the award for its North Andover plant.

THE HAPPY STATE

To aid in creating a happier world for man is the primary end of all pharmaceutical research—the happy state described by the philosopher Juvenal almost 2000 years ago as “a sound mind in a sound body.”

Measures of success in attaining this goal are reflected in the sharp decline in the death rate and the control of such diseases as diphtheria, tuberculosis, pneumonia, and polio. Pharmaceutical industry scientists are intensifying their research efforts in such areas as mental health, cancer, and heart disease. And the resulting new drug products will be dispensed with professional care by your neighborhood pharmacist.

In 1932, he went to Los Angeles to compete with the U.S. team in the Olympics.

The ceremonies Friday will include a luncheon, followed by induction ceremonies and a program with Will Cloney serving as toastmaster.

EDUCATION

he is convinced are coming to challenge them.

In other words, he feels that where a school administration, parents, teachers, students, and a whole community have reached general if not perfect agreement about what they are trying to accomplish with their teaching efforts, their learning efforts, and their tax money, public schools will survive and thrive in spite of challenges. The logic is that where there is no such consensus about educational goals, schools systems will not thrive, but fail to reach recognizable goals, and their communities will not support their programs with tax money.

Seifert feels strongly that part of the schools' responsibility is to develop a cohesive kindergarten-through-senior high curriculum in each field of knowledge, with educational goals and strategies to reach them, with statement of equipment and personnel needs for the resulting programs, to which price tags can be attached. A byproduct of this educational necessity will be that the schools can answer the questions that the community has a right to ask its own school system. The process of K-12 curriculum development is now under way in Andover, according to Seifert.

He is looking now for community response in the community meetings on educational goals, which will begin next month.

"Silence", said Seifert, "is difficult to interpret."

REAL ESTATE CORNER

by Marjorie C. Kidd

When selling and purchasing property the terms realty and personality are used.

What is the difference between realty and personality? All property that is capable of being owned falls into one of these two classes.

Land and materials attached to the land are realty. Some articles in a house are firmly attached. Damage would result if they were moved. These articles are usually considered realty.

Personalty refers to personal property, such as household goods or furniture. Most articles that are easily moved are classified as personality.

A tree growing on land is real estate. The tree is cut down and severed from the soil. It is then cut into boards. This lumber is personality. When the lumber is fashioned into a dwelling, it becomes realty again. Thus, many articles may change from realty to personality and back again.

School Committee Endorses Registration Administrator's Program

School committee members who spent most of their Tuesday meeting listening as Superintendent Dr. Kenneth R. Seifert described two programs already under way with his administrators and teaching staff, and a third, a nine-point public relations program.

In the public relations area, Seifert invited school committee help in the "education town meetings" he plans "to open the gates to the public," but it was obvious at the meeting in the West Elementary school gym that he intends to run the meetings his own way.

A yearly program which school administrators and directors now operate under delegates to each the responsibility for defining, carrying out and assessing his own program, and for a long range view of his school. By May, each is slated to have his teaching staff's schedule ready to report, as well as his own summer program.

The townspeople who underwrite these programs will be interested to know that each administrator or director is responsible for establishing and justifying his own chunk of the school budget, with full involvement of his staff. Seifert replied to Chairman Richard A. Katz's question that he and his staff were aware that a tentative budget was due Dec. 15.

Seifert told the TOWNSMAN Wednesday that the administrators expect to turn in budget figures which are not only broken down into components with price tags, but the components will be arranged by priority; the school administration wants any cutting of the Dec. 15 budget, which is intentionally tentative, to start from the bottom, on lowest priority budget components.

The school men also got a preview of the system's curriculum development plan, which means the establishment and continual refinement of a continuous program in each curriculum, or field of study, from kindergarten right through the 12th grade of senior high.

The five steps involved, Seifert said, are establishment of the K-12 curriculum, coordination of the steps in the curriculum between the elementary, junior high and senior high levels, and within these levels, the essential in-service training of the staff, plus research and development, leading to the final step of reprogramming, or improving the curricula.

The school committee strongly supported Seifert's proposal to give Andover staff credits towards salary increments for justified and valuable in-service, as well as for taking college courses. Chairman Katz assented strongly, and Committeeman William A. Doherty exclaimed "You're on the right track!" when Seifert claimed that a school system often got more direct results from in-service professional growth opportunities than from college courses teachers took.

The superintendent's public relations program features the community education meetings and public office hours, Thursdays from 3-5 p.m., but also several advisory councils of students, parents and teachers, which Seifert said would give him exposure to their ideas. He justified the student advisory council, which will include elementary as well as junior and senior high students by saying that everyone getting a treatment (in this case an educational one) has the right to say how it's affecting him. The PR program includes public speaking, work with town officials and of course, the mass media.

Finally, the public relations program includes a superintendent's newsletter, four times a year, to describe the status of the system and current issues.

Here Mrs. Virginia Cole noted that his plans did not mention the existing school department newsletter "Your Schools," and noted that the committee did not regard this as sacred, if the superintendent's newsletter made it unnecessary. "Your Schools" which is mailed to all citizens of Andover, has more than once been the subject of school committee controversy.

The issue has been whether a school committee member's signed articles expressing individual opinions may be misconstrued as school committee policy because of inclusion in an official school department bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Springall, former residents of Andover are now residing at 125 Prospect Street, Stamford, Conn.

Registration Due For Y Hoop League

Plans for the Andover Y.M.C.A. Boys' Basketball Leagues are now being developed with opening sessions expected to be about mid-November. Registrations are now being accepted at the Y.M.C.A. 10 Brook St. and enrollees will be notified prior to first session.

Under the leadership of YMCA physical director, Walter J. Kimball, league director Frank Monette, and interested father's and others who will serve as coaches and officials, the program will serve boys from 8 through 14 years of age. Boys 13 and 14 will be in the Intermediate Division, boys 11 and 12 in the Junior Division, boys 9 and 10 in the Pee Wee Division, and 8 year olds in the Cadette Division. The Cadettes program will largely consist of coaching in the fundamentals of basketball and inter-squad competition. Older groups will have training programs of shorter duration with most of their time devoted to formal league play.

Both the Andover YMCA gym and the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High school gym will be used and registrants must be prepared to play at either location. Actual assignments must await determination of numbers involved in various age divisions. Individual trophies will be awarded to players of winning teams in each age division involved in league play.

The Planners

The planning board, we think, did not act wisely in inserting the several changes in rules, regulations and by-laws to the special town meeting.

The items were enacted finally Monday night. Most all deal with upgrading the rules and regulations concerning use of land in the town and are probably needed.

First, the several items made for a lengthy warrant and were matters which probably well could have been put over to the annual town meeting in March.

Second, Town Counsel Fredric S. O'Brien noted that there are so many changes and coming so fast that it is difficult for him to keep up with them.

Harold T. King, chairman of the planners, told the meeting that the board felt that these changes were necessary to keep abreast of the times.

Counsel cautioned to go slow.

We do not criticize the planning board for their interest and their work. They are an unpaid board which keeps an alert eye on the development of the town. They are a conscientious group.

But the many changes that were placed before the special session were too much for an October meeting to handle, we think.

Generally, many of the items are misunderstood by the voters. Giving more time would provide for a more informed electorate.

We are aware that hearings are held and there is sparse attendance, thus no one can complain that they did not have the opportunity to be informed.

We would think that a go-slow attitude by the planning board would better serve Andover.

The October special town meeting, a good thought in the beginning, already appears to have become too cumbersome to tackle these important items. Better to leave them to a hopefully one-day session in March.

The Crossing Guards

We deplore the ignorance some motorists express by failing to pay respect to the women crossing guards.

The women, who are by all means not overly paid, stand out in all sorts of weather to protect youngsters on their way to and from school.

They relieve full time police officers from traffic duty so that they may remain available for other law enforcement duties.

Yet some motorists look upon them as decorations, the way they travel.

Witnessed recently was a guard flagging down a car moving at a rapid pace on Elm street. A group of youngsters stood behind her, waiting to cross.

The motorist failed to heed the warning and proceeded at the same rate of speed.

Often one can observe motorists failing to stop at the Bartlet and Whittier street intersections, where a school zone is obvious.

For the hours that they work, the crossing guards are responsible for the safety of the thousands of youngsters attending our schools.

They are diligent and attentive to their duties. They command the respect and obedience of the youngsters.

For this, they are due the respect of the motorists. It is entirely possible the safety of your child is involved.

Apartments

Voters at the special town meeting this week again rejected an apartment complex proposal.

The planning board has under study, the effect of apartments on a community. This study should provide direction for Andover.

The apartment problem is prevalent in all communities, with the basic problem being their value to the town and the effect the units have on the school population.

Methuen is having its problems with proposed apartment complexes, North Andover has declared a moratorium on any further construction of such projects.

If a study can solve the questions that arise from such proposals, then maybe Andover can have an idea concerning a future course.

Monday night's rejection was the second such proposal turned down this year, a proposed complex on High and Haverhill streets having been rejected in March.

Off The Top Of The Desk

We never cease to be amazed at the amount of knitting which takes place at town meetings.

At the special session Monday night, many ladies in the audience, were busily engaged with needles entwining yarn into sweaters, socks and other items.

It is characteristic of Andover's town meetings, regular and special, and despite debate, apparently the ladies never miss a stitch.

Not that we would advocate such a thing, but for the sake of a pun, we might suggest that with more town meetings, Andover would become a well-knit town.

Don't let that probably belated visit of Indian Summer on Monday keep you from making sure the snowblower is in operation. The same day it was in the upper 70's hereabouts, it was snowing in Maine.

Monday's rather abnormal high, is probably the last for the year, so that would indicate to those who have not already done it, to get the storm windows on, and batten down the hatches for winter. It won't be far behind.

Women's fashions can certainly get confusing. First the style is on the rise and then suddenly its on the decline, in both cases to the extreme.

A daily commuter, passing the Merrimack College campus observes that during the early weeks there was an abundance of mini-skirted among the co-eds, some minier than others (eyes on the road please).

This week the observer noted a maxi-coat which descends to the ankles.

There just doesn't seem to be an in between.

Commissioner of Public Safety William F. Powers recently announced the activity of the Massachusetts State Police Uniformed Branch, traffic bureau for the fiscal year of 1969.

The Massachusetts State Police were involved in all phases of motor vehicle activity during fiscal 1969. Accidents investigated increased 16% over the past year. There were 2545 accidents investigated during daylight hours as compared to 2466 at nighttime.

U.N. Day

In honor of United Nations Day, which falls on Oct. 24 this year, the library has prepared an exhibit of recent books written about the operations of the United Nations, and about the leaders from all nations who have made it work. Included in the display are the following publications, all written since 1963: Blueprint for Peace by Richard N. Gardner; Dag Hammarskjöld, Servant of Peace edited by Wilder Foote; latest edition of Everyman's United Nations; How United Nations are Made by J. G. Hadwen and Johan Kaufman; Peace Is Possible edited by Elizabeth J. Hollins and Peace-Keeping from Suez to the Congo by Arthur Lee Burns and Nina Heathcote.

A new color film has been received to be used in connection with the UN week. Its title is "The Journey of Fabio Pacchioni."

Keep Informed

A new display idea has been started this week in hopes of keeping people up to date on current issues as well as providing a way to bring the newest books on a controversial issue to your attention. The display is entitled "Keep up to date on..." and will feature a different subject every two or three weeks. This week the subject is the Arab-Israeli conflict. There is background material available as well as the two latest books the library has purchased on the subject, "Moshe Dayan" by N. Lou-Lavie and "From War to War, the

The most prevalent time of occurrence was between the hours of 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. The weekend once again continues to be the most dangerous time of the week to be on the highway; Saturday being the most critical day with 1,002 accidents.

The two leading types of accidents were driving off the roadway and the rear end collision. Inattention and excessive speed were the two leading causes.

Maybe our memory is failing us, but it seems hurricanes have been more prevalent this year than in the past several years.

Laura, which was spawned early this week and threatening in the Gulf Coast, was the 12th of the season, which seems an abnormal amount.

Weather forecasters have said that the hurricane season lasts roughly through mid-October, so maybe the season is about over.

We are in that silly season again, when youthful vandals apparently find some foolish pleasure in breaking pumpkins in roadways.

The pumpkins are generally stolen from some persons doorsteps where owner has tried to offer a pleasant seasonal scene.

The smashed pumpkins show up in all parts of town and not only represent thievery and vandalism, but an unsightly mess.

Many people bemoan the fact that Baltimore has been nothing but a loser this year. The Orioles just lost to the Mets in the World Series, the Colts were beaten by the Jets in football and the Bullets were topped by the Knicks in basketball.

But one observer, coyly notes, that it was not a year of total loss. Spiro Agnew made it almost to the top.

One of the more outstanding shows we have seen recently was performed by a group of priests from various sections of the Boston Archdiocese last Sunday night.

With talent galore, they entertained some 800 parishioners of St. Michael's parish, North Andover at their centennial banquet in Central Catholic Auditorium.

Spanish Fiesta Planned

People helping people will be a reality on Saturday, Nov. 1, as the members of the South Church on Central Street in Andover produce a Spanish Fiesta which will benefit the Pilgrim Foundation in Lawrence. The Pilgrim Foundation is under the direction of G.L.E.A.M. (Greater Lawrence Ecumenical Area Ministry) and supports many projects which aid the Spanish speaking people in the Lawrence area.

This unusual Church Fair features a Spanish theme throughout. Doors will open at 10 a.m. on a scene of many gaily decorated booths selling holiday decorations, dried arrangements, candy, plants, attic treasures, knit goods, books, jewelry, children's games and grab bags. Pinatas have been especially made and filled. An old-fashioned country store will feature cheese, apples, cider, homemade

Gordon, Simmers Win Case

Richard K. Gordon of Andover and Richard C. Simmers of Andover, were cleared in a U.S. Tax Court decision on Internal Revenue charges that they owed the government back taxes.

The charges stemmed from funds illegally received in the Boston Common Garage conspiracy.

The court held that Gordon and Simmers had no part in the events leading to kickback funds from the Foundation Co., builders of the garage.

The ruling indicated that it found the pair were conduits and actually did not have the funds.

Judge Arnold Raum, who heard the case, said that Gordon and Simmers passed the money on to Francis B. Kiernan in accordance with instructions from the Foundation Co. and was not income to them.

A total of $140,000 was involved in the conspiracy case.

Both Gordon and Simmers were convicted in the Garage case and were sentenced to two years on the conspiracy charge.

The court decision could open the door to a petition for a new trial for both. Neither had made a decision this week as to making such a move.

It was the alleged receipt of the $140,000 that led to the court case, according to Gordon.

Chamber Passes Out Five Free TVs

Downtown Andover appeals to more than just Andover shoppers as evidenced in the announcing of the lucky winners of portable television sets given away in a weekend promotion of the Andover Chamber of Commerce.

Among the five winners, three were from Andover, one from Lawrence and one from Methuen.

The winners were chosen from coupons deposited in participating stores.

The TV recipients were: Carol Bartoli, 112 Greenwood Road; Mrs. Paula Burton, 14 Wolcott Ave.; Donna Gosselin, 17 Chester St., South Lawrence; Mrs. Henry O' Bryan, 66 Porter Road and Nancy Squatrito, 16 Fair Oaks Ave., Methuen.

DONALD E. LUNDGREN
ELM STREET ANDOVER 475-2072
ESTABLISHED IN 1940

could creep all the way along North Main street to Shawheen Square.

He suggested that possibly houses could be built on the Curran estate, rather than the apartments.

Giles responded by stating that to put houses there would require putting in 50 foot wide roads and would cause more traffic problems than apartments. He also said that single home construction would cause more school problems than apartments.

A resident asked what effect the apartments would have on the schools, to which Dr. Frishman replied. He said there was no firm guideline, but there is some effect.

Harold R. Rafton, 9 Alden Road, expressed opposition to the proposal. He felt the town had enough apartments now and that the financial obligations required to live in the proposed units seemed prohibitive.

Giles responded with the comment that he already had a list of people interested in the apartments. The units were the type which eventually the tenant would own.

Mrs. Beverly Darling, a real estate agent, spoke in favor of the proposal, noting that Giles had always done good work in the past and this appeared to be a good plan.

Atty. Joel Labell, speaking for abutters objected to the plan, stating that despite sketches presented, there was no guarantee that the style of the units would be carried out.

He also doubted the covenant and asked that the article be rejected.

When the vote was taken, 135 were in favor and 258 opposed.

RAYTHEON

noted that the town had injected the fluoride into the water against the will of some and in view of it being harmful to some.

The resolution was overwhelmingly defeated on a voice vote.

Other major items approved by the meeting Monday night included appropriating $15,000 to provide overtime pay for firefighters in accordance with a new state law and $68,000 for installation of a new 10-inch sewer line in the Chestnut street, Summer street, Stevens Circle area.

With regard to the latter, Selectman Roger W. Collins explained that this is part of the town's master plan and that due to the tremendous growth in the area, the work was necessary now.

The proposal passed unanimously.

In other action:
Article 20 - Lowell street apartments - withdrawn.

Article 23 - Legalize transfer of land for Raytheon roads - approved.

Article 24 - Accepted Dorset Circle.

Articles 25 through 36 - Changes in planning board rules and regulations and zoning districts, all approved.

The meeting, scheduled for 7:30 p.m. got underway about 8 p.m. and went to 10:15 p.m.

There were 410 voters registered for the session.

What Our Readers Say

To The Editor of the TOWNSMAN

With reference to the Sept. 18th statement in the Lawrence Eagle Tribune credited to the Andover Board of Health wherein 83 million people in the U.S. were drinking fluoridated water supposedly "without undetectable risk to their health", the Board apparently has done little research while advocating the pollution of Andover Water with a "dangerous Drug" (per U.S. Food and Drug Administration). If they were aware of such evidence, the Andover citizens may now judge how sincere their statement was.

Here is a little documentation (just a few of the many available) of how little safety there is in drinking fluoridated water: Annals of Rheumatic Diseases, Vol. 14, Page 379 (1955), Dr. H.C. Hodge (crippling fluorosis from concentrations of fluoride in as little as 2.0 parts per million), Int. Archives of Allergy and Applied Immunology, Vol. 20 (1962), Dr. G. L. Walbot, A.H. Siddiqui, India, in British Med. Journal, 2:1407 (12/10/55) "Fluorosis in Nalgonda District, Hyderabad Decan", Linsman and McMurray, "Fluoride Osteosclerosis from Drinking Water, Radiology 40:474-484, 1943- correction of misprint 12 ppm to 1.2 ppm in 41:497 (1943), S. P. Kumar, Harper, R.A. K., "Fluorosis in Aden", British Journal of Radiology 36:467, (July 1963), Kretschmar Waterhouse and Parry, "Repeated Hemodialysis in Chronic Uremia", Journal of the American Medical Association, 184:1030-31;(1963) "Incidence of Mongoloid Births in High Fluoride Areas", Dr. Lionel Rappaport (1.0 to 2.6 ppm concentration), Bulletin of France's National Academy of Medicine, May 12, 1959; Sauerbrunn, Ryan and Shaw, "Chronic Fluoride Intoxication (poisoning) with Fluorotic Radiomylomelopathy", Annals of Internal Medicine, Vol. 63, No. 6, 1074-1078 (1965), J. F. Bacon, "Arterial Calcification in Infancy", Journal of the A.M.A., 181:933-935, June 1964; Kaj Roholm, "Fluorine Intoxication (poisoning)", Lewis, London, 1937; it is also interesting to note that the American Medical Association does not "guarantee the safety of fluorides in drinking water" as was indicated in their letter from C. Joseph Stetler, Director of the AMA Law Department at that time. I have a copy of that letter in my possession, complete with signature.

The Andover Board of Health should have the courage to rescind their order to fluoridate Andover Water Supplies until it can really be proven that there is no harm in fluoridated drinking water. One also wonders who is more "reprehensible" - we who oppose fluoridation because of evidence like the above references or those professionals who violate their professions' ethics by treating fellow professionals' patients, without his or the patients permission, through the medium of fluoridated drinking water?

Pack 75

Pack 75 Cub Scouts, will hold a final registration on Friday, Oct. 24 at St. Augustine's school hall between 7 and 8:15 p.m.

The program will feature group singing by the cub scouts, an explanation of the program and assignment of boys to dens.

Hugh Arnold, pack committee chairman, plans to automate the record keeping to simplify the den mother's task and to utilize a rotating den mother concept in order that no den mother need to serve more than six weeks or so unless she wants to.

The rotating cub master technique will also be developed.

Dr. Louis Galbiati will be cub master at the Oct. 24 meeting.

A Squirrel Flips Our Switch

A squirrel flicked a switch and the town went without power for about 25 minutes Tuesday morning about 10 a.m.

The furry-tailed rodent got into a transformer and caused the power to go out in the Central and Shawheen sections of town.

Workmen from the Massachusetts Electric company were on the scene quickly and remedied the damage, restoring power.

POLITICAL

The Hurleys have been publicly praised for their co-operation in negotiating with the town on the proposed purchase.

When actual acquisition will take place is not known at this time.

The town has just appropriated planning funds for the school addition and further action toward building is not anticipated until at least the March town meeting.

Arlington Motors introduces the first altogether-new Lincoln Continental in nearly a decade.

America's most distinguished motorcar presents new dimensions in spaciousness, luxury and appointments. The interior room is more commodious, front and rear. The body is longer. The stance is the widest ever in a Continental. The Continental
Mark III is the most authoritatively styled, decisively individual motorcar of this generation.
Everything about Mark III is distinctive.

The Cyclone Spoiler is the muscle Mercury - a tough all-out action machine, featuring hi-back bucket seats and your choice of five special competition colors.

Sports car buffs won't want to miss the new Cougar Eliminator with its racing mirrors, blackout grille, and tough hood with its black scoop and stripe. The Marquis,
the Mercury Monterey, Mercury Montego MX, they're all there at Arlington Motors waiting your inspection.

In addition, they have a full line of Safe Buy used cars, completely serviced and ready to go. Arlington Motors' factory trained Lincoln Mercury mechanics are on hand from 8-12:30 and 1-5:30 Monday through Thursday; 8-12 and 1-5 on Fridays for your convenience.

ENGINEERS... ME's + EE's

I had joined that company 2 or 3
years ago; imagine
where I could be today.
How many times have you said this or heard others say it?
Every so often a small company springs up in an area and almost overnight becomes the talk of its industry.

Consider these facts:

	Sales	Employees
1960	$ 16,000	3
1965	1,286,000	22
1968	3,612,000	257
1969	8,125,000	526
1970	MORE OF THE SAME

Since we're writing this ad and obviously we're enthusiastic about Compugraphic you may wish to ask others about the company. Ask any of your friends associated with the phototypesetting business or graphic arts field about COMPUGRAPHIC - listen to what they say.

We are now looking for engineers to join our technical staff.

Mechanical Engineers

Senior level with experience in advanced development of mechanical equipment such as phototypesetters, office equipment, computer peripheral equipment, mechanisms or packaging.

Electrical Engineers

Openings at both junior and senior levels for imaginative design engineers with circuit and/or logic design experience.

If you want to work hard, become totally involved and do the next best thing to working for yourself - check us out. Two or three years from now you'll be saying:
"I'M GLAD - I DID" instead of "I wish I had"

New Hampshire Man Killed On Route 93

Police are continuing their investigation of a fatal accident in which a Londonderry, N.H., man was instantly killed at 10:15 a.m. Tuesday on Route 93.

William Bohn, 26, Wagon Wheel Trailer Park, Londonderry, N.H., rammed into the rear of a trailer truck on the northbound lane of Route 93 between Dascomb Road and Route 133.

William Cecere, operator of the trailer truck, reported to police that he heard a noise and pulled the truck over to the side of the road to find the victim's car under the trailer.

Andover police and firefighters extricated the victim from the car and took him to Bon Secours hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival. Dr. John T. Batal, medical examiner, said death was due to excessive head injuries. Edward Cummings, a Woburn patrolman who was passing the scene, reported the accident to local police.

In addition to local and state police, Registry of Motor Vehicles Inspector Raymond Pellerin, is investigating.
